Access to your library account

From the Aleph catalogue and by identifying yourself (bar code on your student card and password which is by default your birth date DDMMYYYY) you will have access to:

* your current loans, in which library and until when,
* the complete historic of your loans,
* your baskets,
* your researches,
* the possibility to extend your loans (except for a certain number of books such as the books used for programs, codes and law manuals...)

You can also extend your loans by mail or by phone.
